Megan M. Sutton represents management in every aspect of employment law.

Megan Sutton defends local, regional, and nationally-known employers in a broad range of employment matters, including the defense of cases under federal and state discrimination laws, against retaliation claims, and against claims for violation of the Family Medical Leave Act (FMLA) and the Americans with Disability Act (ADA). Ms. Sutton also litigates non-compete cases and advises clients facing challenging workforce issues such as employee discipline, termination, and leave issues. She also counsels clients through internal investigations involving claims of whistleblowing, harassment, and wage and hour issues.

Ms. Sutton represents clients in state and federal courts and in defense of administrative proceedings before the Equal Employment Opportunity Commission (EEOC), state human rights commissions, state unemployment commissions, arbitrators, and the Department of Labor (DOL). Since joining the Firm, Ms. Sutton has accumulated significant trial experience on large litigation matters.

Before joining Baker Donelson, Ms. Sutton was a judicial clerk for Chancellors W. Frank Brown, III and Jeffrey M. Atherton at the Hamilton County Chancery Court in Chattanooga, Tennessee.

Representative Matters

- Obtained a summary judgment for a food manufacturing company where five named plaintiff's alleged race, national origin, color, age, and religious discrimination, constructive discharge, and negligent supervision claims.
- Represented a financial institution in a federal jury trial that resulted in a defense verdict on plaintiff's fraud claim.
- Obtained summary judgment for a food manufacturing company where plaintiff alleged race discrimination, racially hostile work environment, retaliation, and constructive discharge in the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Tennessee.
- Represented a client in a federal jury trial that resulted in a defense verdict on the plaintiff's claims for discrimination, retaliation, and failure to accommodate under the ADA.
- Represented a client in a federal jury trial that resulted in a directed verdict following the close of the plaintiff's proof on his claims for disability discrimination under the ADA and FMLA retaliation.
- Represented a client in a federal jury trial that resulted in a defense verdict on the plaintiff's claims for failure to accommodate under the ADA and FMLA interference.
- Represented a client in a jury trial defending regional lending institution in an age discrimination case in Jackson, Tennessee. Judge directed verdict in our favor after a hung jury.
- Obtained summary judgment for a financial institution where the plaintiff alleged gender and national origin discrimination, retaliation, and violation of the Equal Pay Act in the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Tennessee.
- Assisted in a successful jury trial defending a large manufacturing client in a workers' compensation retaliation case where plaintiff, a 22-year-long employee, was terminated for work performance and who cited back injury as reason for poor performance, but never recorded the injury.

- Obtained summary judgment for a food manufacturing company where plaintiff alleged national origin discrimination and associational retaliation in the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Tennessee.
- Obtained summary judgment for a senior housing community where the plaintiff alleged gender and pregnancy discrimination based on a failure to promote theory, including a claim for retaliation in the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Tennessee.
- Obtained summary judgment for construction company on plaintiff's claims for FMLA interference and FMLA retaliation in the U.S. District Court for the Middle District of Tennessee which was affirmed by the Sixth Circuit Court of Appeals.
