Mark Mercante is co-chair of Baker Donelson's Construction Group.

Mr. Mercante represents owners, developers, contractors, subcontractors, and design professionals in all aspects of construction, including construction contract negotiation and drafting, pre-claim counseling during the construction process, and disputes before courts and arbitration panels. His dispute resolution experience includes representation on claims of breach of contract, change orders, defective work, delay, disruption, inefficiency, differing site conditions, unfair trade practices, and other construction-related claims.

Mr. Mercante handles matters involving state law lien claims and federal law Miller Act claims. His transactional matters include negotiation and drafting of construction, design, CMAR, design-build, and EPC contracts for manufacturing and industrial facilities; office and commercial complexes; universities; hospital systems; institutional facilities; shopping centers and other retail developments; high-rise residential developments; educational facilities; and a variety of other commercial projects.

Mr. Mercante is a Fellow in the American College of Construction Lawyers, and is also listed for Construction in The Best Lawyers in America®, Super Lawyers, and Chambers USA. Best Lawyers® recently recognized Mr. Mercante as 2026 Construction Law "Lawyer of the Year" in New Orleans.
