

Thomas Shaw*

Public Policy Advisor

Washington, D.C. | 202.654.4606 | tshaw@bakerdonelson.com

Thomas Shaw serves as a policy advisor for the Government Relations and Public Policy group and focuses his work on aerospace and defense policy issues.

As a member of the Government Relations and Public Policy Group, Mr. Shaw works on aerospace and defense policy issues for clients in both the public and private sectors. He advocates for clients in Congress, in the Pentagon, and within various federal agencies.

Prior to joining Baker Donelson, Mr. Shaw interned with the Senate Budget Committee under chairman Senator Kent Conrad. Mr. Shaw also spent time interning for Congressman Dan Benishek.

Publications

- "Use of the Defense Production Act Title III Expected to Increase Under President Trump to Support U.S. Defense Industrial Base" (January 2025)
- "Biden Administration Nominations and Appointments" (January 2021)
- "Welcome to the 117th Congress" (January 2021)
- "Overview of President-Elect Biden's Policies" (November 2020)
- "2020 Elections: November 9 Recap" (November 2020)

Education

- The George Washington University School of Law, J.D., 2016
- George Mason University, BS, 2013, magna cum laude

Admissions

- Washington, D.C., 2016

* Not a practicing attorney.