Associate

Memphis | 901.577.2233 | zishee@bakerdonelson.com

Zach Ishee is an associate in Baker Donelson's Memphis office and a member of Baker Donelson's Financial Services Transactions Group.

Mr. Ishee assists clients in a variety of financial and commercial transactions, with a particular focus on representing both traditional and non-bank lenders.

Mr. Ishee regularly represents lending institutions across a wide array of debt financings, including negotiating and structuring term loans, revolving lines of credit, delayed draw term loans, and intercreditor arrangements. He represents these clients with respect to initial structuring and throughout such loan's life.

Additionally, Mr. Ishee is routinely involved in a variety of real estate-related matters, including all stages of a transaction and a project's progression – from acquisition and development to leasing and disposition.

Mr. Ishee also counsels clients in various roles within the construction industry, including contractors, subcontractors, and design professionals. He represents these clients with respect to drafting and negotiating construction and development agreements, including issues related to industry-standard forms.

During law school, Mr. Ishee was a founding member of the Government Law Student Association, worked as a legal intern for one of the largest freight companies in the U.S., and served as a fellow for the National Agricultural Law Center.
