Kenneth Klemm Talks with CityBusiness About Baker Donelson's Growing Energy Practice

The booming oil and gas industry in Louisiana is proving to be an incentive for law firms to develop their energy practice areas. In this New Orleans CityBusiness article, Kenneth Klemm says that Baker Donelson has 20 attorneys in its three Louisiana offices that are directly involved in the energy practice, primarily focusing on exploration and production.

"It's definitely a growing area," Mr. Klemm said. "With the natural gas revolution, we are seeing a manufacturing renaissance."
