Baker Donelson Attorneys Named "IP Stars" in Managing Intellectual Property's 2016 IP Handbook

June 28, 2016

(Nashville, TN / June 28, 2016) Baker Donelson is pleased to announce that four of its attorneys have been named "IP Stars" in the 2016 edition of Managing Intellectual Property's IP Handbook, an annual publication which recognizes leading law firms and lawyers in intellectual property.

The IP Handbook also listed Baker Donelson as "highly recommended" in the state of Tennessee for its intellectual property work, which includes a significant amount of patent and trademark prosecution, post-grant proceedings (such as inter partes reviews) and transactional services, in addition to litigation.

The Baker Donelson attorneys listed as "IP Stars" in the 2016 edition of the IP Handbook are:

- Bruce C. Doeg (Nashville) – Patent star
- David A. Larsen (Birmingham) – Trademark star
- Bradley E. Trammell (Memphis) – Patent star and Trademark star

The "IP Stars" list is based on extensive research conducted by a team compiling market feedback and independent information. Individuals included on the list are practitioners with long-established practices and clients in the industry.

The Intellectual Property Group at Baker Donelson undertakes responsibility for the protection of inventions and other forms of intellectual property for clients ranging from start-ups to Fortune 500 companies. They obtain, defend and enforce patents, trademarks, copyrights and trade secrets in the United States and throughout the world. The Firm has developed relationships with intellectual property lawyers in many major foreign countries, and has facilitated applications, patents and registrations of trademarks in more than 80 foreign jurisdictions.
