

PUBLICATION

Update: Even Easier Ways to Track and Organize Key Health Information!

August 13, 2019

In the previous issue of Strive, we addressed simple steps that you can take to put your health-related affairs in order (see Easy Ways to Track and Organize Key Health Information – From Your Smartphone!). Since then, the American Bar Association (ABA) created a new app, Mind Your Loved Ones, that helps families access advanced directives and other medical information. This new app allows individuals to store key health-related documents and information about themselves and their loved ones that can be easily accessed and shared.

To read more about the app, check out <http://mindyour-lovedones.com/> or click here.