Baker Donelson Adds Keith Fagerquist to Government Relations and Public Policy Group

January 21, 2020

Baker Donelson has added Keith Fagerquist to the Firm's Washington, D.C. office as a member of the Government Relations and Public Policy Group.

Mr. Fagerquist, who joins the Firm as a public policy advisor, focuses his work on health care and defense policy issues for clients in both the public and private sectors.

Prior to joining Baker Donelson, Mr. Fagerquist worked various projects as a contractor throughout the Department of Defense, advising on health policies within Health Affairs and the respective services. He holds a master's degree in health policy from George Mason University with an emphasis on decision making in policy advocacy, development, implementation, and analysis.
