Baker Donelson's Daniel Rodgers Listed in Chambers Global 2025

February 13, 2025

Daniel Rodgers, shareholder in the New Orleans office of the national law firm Baker Donelson, has been named to the 2025 edition of Chambers Global.

The practice areas in which Mr. Rodgers was recognized are:

- Liberia – Shipping
- USA – Shipping
- Global Market Leaders – Shipping: Finance

With more than 25 years of experience guiding financial institutions and corporate borrowers through complex domestic and international commercial transactions, Mr. Rodgers focuses his practice on asset-based lending, structured financings, and U.S. capital markets transactions, with a particular emphasis on the shipping and offshore industries. He has extensive experience financing domestic and foreign-flagged vessels, deepwater drilling rigs, and support vessels, as well as advising lenders and operators on coastwise trade laws, maritime regulations, and corporate law in multiple jurisdictions, including the United States, Liberia, the Marshall Islands, and Vanuatu. Before joining Baker Donelson, he served as managing partner of the New York office of a major international law firm based in London.

Chambers Global ranks the top two percent of lawyers and law firms in more than 200 jurisdictions across the world. It has been the primary resource used by general counsels and referrers of work when selecting experts in legal services.
